LOCAL PASTOR RESIGNS PLACE FOR U. S. TOUR

Wide Itinerary Planned
As Ambition Of Many Years Is Realized

Resigning his position as pastor of the First Christian church, Rev. Frank A. Woten yesterday announced his intention of conducting a nation-wide evangelistic tour, with possible excursions into Canada.

Rev. Woten will preach his last sermon in Richmond June 26, and will take a vacation during July, returning here during August. Placing his three daughters in school, Rev. and Mrs. Woten will leave by automobile for the southern part of the United States.

After a brief stay in Texas, Rev. Woten announced that he would visit his father in Nebraska, and in the fall proceed to Florida, and then on to Washington, D. C. After covering various eastern states, he will travel to the Mammoth Cave region of Kentucky, and possibly visit Canada later in the year.

Rev. Woten stated that he expected to return to Richmond some time late in 1928.

Pastor of the First Christian church for the past four years, Rev. Woten declared that Richmond had offered a more abundant opportunity for dissemination of Christianity than any other pastorate he had ever held. While expressing regret at leaving his duties in Richmond, Rev. Woten declared that his decision to take up evangelistic work came as the result of an ambition of many years standing.

No minister has yet been chosen to replace Rev. Woten, it was nounced.

Fourth Street Garage Sale Is Made

The Fourth Street Garage at 331 Fourth street has been purchased by H. V. Overington it was learned here yesterday. Overington is connected with the U. S. Rubber company and will act only in a supervisory capacity at the garage, active management being in charge of his brother C. H. Overington and Jack Slemmon.

A number of improvements have been made and are now in progress at the Fourth Street Garage, including the installation of a full line of U. S. Tires and the addition of a new Packard Tow car.

Wallace Snelgrove, prominent Richmond contractor, was awarded a contract for the construction of a reinforced concrete store and office building of two stories costing $20,000 to be built on Main street adjoining the American Trust company building in Martinez.

PAINT AND SAVE

The effect and value of paint and proper window glass are subjects worthy of serious thought. Paint not only saves and preserves, but it makes the difference between shabbiness and prosperity, in appearance.

Whether you wish to do your own painting or desire to employ the service of experts, consult those you will find listed in the "Buyers Guide." They will gladly advise and serve you.

WILD ANIMAL SHOW IS PUT ON AT S. O.

Has the fair dawn of civilization touched Richmond? Employees of the Standard Oil Pipe Shop will never believe it after their experience of yesterday. A full grown, vigorous, albeit thin bobcat leaped out of its hiding place in the shop with shivering fangs and told the world in no uncertain way that it "hoped to spit," this animal was WILD!

O. L. Zuber promptly put the wildcat out of the way of pipes and lumber by sending a bullet through its head. Examination revealed that the animal was "gifted" with a foot which showed evidence of having been clinched in a trap. The survival of a pretty well tamed wilderness stood two feet tall not in its stocking feet. It had evidently become accustomed to a diet of cast iron which did not agree with its constitution, for it had that slim, boyish figure that comes of abstinence from regular meals.

The opinion was advanced that the bobcat might have arrived in a shipment of lumber. Another and more startling belief centered around the fact that no ordinary wildcat could arrive at the Point without first traveling through Richmond.

MYSTERY DEATH IS RESULT OF BROKEN ULCER

A report from the University of California laboratories with regard to the death of Henri Claverie, 674 Broadway, San Francisco, whose body was found just north of the Richmond-San Rafael ferry slip Monday morning, revealed that he died as the result of a perforated ulcer of the stomach. Coroner Aubrey Wilson announced yesterday.

Mystery surrounded the finding of the body and an autopsy failed to disclose any cause of death. It was at first suspected that Claverie died of poisoning but this was disproved by examination at the University laboratories. Fellow roomers of Claverie in San Francisco, Joseph Jacobson and John Charbet identified the body upon coming to Richmond and stated that he had always appeared to have money and that so far as was known he left no relatives.

Last rites will be conducted by the Seminole Tribe of Red Men of San Francisco, of which lodge Claverie was a member.

Child Hurt As Auto Strikes Kiddy Kar

When the wagon on which he was coasting was struck by an automobile driven by D. G. Saylor, of 614 Seventeenth street, at 7 o'clock last night near Nineteenth and Roosevelt, little Jacob Pajnie, J., aged 7, of 1918 Roosevelt, received injuries that necessitated his being taken to the Cottage hospital for treatment.

The youth was treated at the hospital for lacerations and bruises of the body and face. Dr. U. S. Abbott was the attending physician.

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, May 11.—A non-stop flight to death.

That appeared tonight to have been the fate of Captain Charles Nungesser and Captain Francois Coli, with receipt of denials that they had been rescued at sea.

These denials killed new hopes that thrilled the nation today when reports were received that the men had been picked up by the Cunard liner Cameronia.

At eight o'clock tonight, however, the Independent Wireless corporation received the following wireless from the radio station at Lewisburg, Nova Scotia:

"Rumors regarding rescue of French fliers by Cameronia untrue." Fifteen minutes later, the Cunard officials received the following from the Captain of the Cameronia:

"Report wrong. Have not sighted or picked up trans-Atlantic fliers."

There was another rumor to the (Continued on Page 8)

Legion To Hear McClatchy On Red Menace

The next meeting of the Richmond American Legion, Post No. 10, to be held tonight, will be a social affair. The honored guest and speaker of the evening will be V. S. McClatchy of San Francisco, formerly of the Sacramento Bee. His subject will be the "reds" in America. He is a capable speaker and handles his subject from a wealth of experience.

Boy Scout troop No. 2, will be present at this social meeting and members are asked to get acquainted with the boys and their scoutmaster, "Pat" Saunders to give the present drive for money their able support.

A group of officers and members, with their wives, will gather at the Carquinez Hotel tonight at 6:00 o'clock for a dinner party. McClatchy will be the guest of the evening.

Santa Cruz has extended a welcome to the members of post No. 10, for May 14 and 15 when Legion members from far and near will assemble for the dedication of a big tree among the Santa Cruz mountain redwoods to those Californians who gave their all. A program of entertainment has been arranged for the crowd that is expected.

Scholes' Condition Reported The Same

The condition of City Councilman Frank A. Scholes of Richmond was reported the same early this morning at the Merritt hospital, where he has been confined for several days following a major operation.

Hope is held for his recovery, although doctors report his condition to be extremely critical. The many Richmond friends of the popular councilman and automobile dealer, are hoping for his speedy recovery.

MOTHERS OF FLYERS KEEP UP COURAGE

PARIS, May 11.—In spite of the lack of news regarding the fate of the White Bird, the mother of Capt. Nungesser will still bear up steadily under the growing anxiety.

"During all these difficult years my boy never failed me," she said today "why should he fail me now? My boy is still living. I know that, I see his face before me."

At Versailles the mother of Capt. Coli, now more than seventy years of age, is still courageous though not so confident.

"In his last letter he told me not to worry I am trying not to. He must come back," she says.

200 ELKS AT OAK CONCLAVE

Over 200 members of Richmond lodge of Elks and their ladies gathered at the Oakland Elks temple last night for a dance and entertainment. A program given during the dinner included vocal numbers by Jessie Pingley Perrin, James Gerard and Michael Patrick Brennan; and accordion numbers by Jerome Damonte.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Arrangements for the affair were in the hands of a committee headed by L. J. Thomas.

Mothers' Night Is Observed By De Molay

"Mothers' Night" was observed by Richmond Chapter, Order of De Molay, with an entertainment and banquet last evening in the Masonic clubrooms. After a short business meeting a program was given that included vocal solos by Archie Campbell.

Dr. Ng. Ponchu of San Francisco addressed the boys on the conditions in China at the present time. He is connected with a San Francisco Chinese newspaper and is a member of Bay View lodge of Masons of Oakland.

Clyde Bumgarner and Thomas Picquet formed the committee in charge of preparations for the event.

Cards were enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. Holland, Mrs. Downey and Mrs. Spierich.

The organization will enjoy a tug boat ride to Paradise Cove on Saturday, June 11. Arrangements for the outing are in charge of Roy Andersen, Glen Dixon and Francis Marchetti.

TWO EL CERRITO HOMES TO BE BUILT

Two permits for the construction of homes were issued in El Cerrito yesterday by Building Inspector J. Hayes. N. E. Anderson will erect a $5000 home in the Gill addition to the Pullman tract. F. Eppstein has been named the contractor. Edward Berts will erect a $1000 cottage to be built in the Berkeley Country Club terrace tract.

The sudden death of their father, Charles Bottom of Portland, Oregon, necessitated a hurried trip north for brothers, J. E. Bottom, 219 East Richmond avenue, and D. S. Bottom of 19 Second street, both of Richmond. The brothers left last night to be gone several days.

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—While 25,000 men fought like tigers on the 100-mile levee line in the Red River Valley to save their homes and their means of a livelihood from ruin, Secretary of Commerce Hoover conferred with state officials here on plans for evacuating the territory as soon as the levee crumbles.

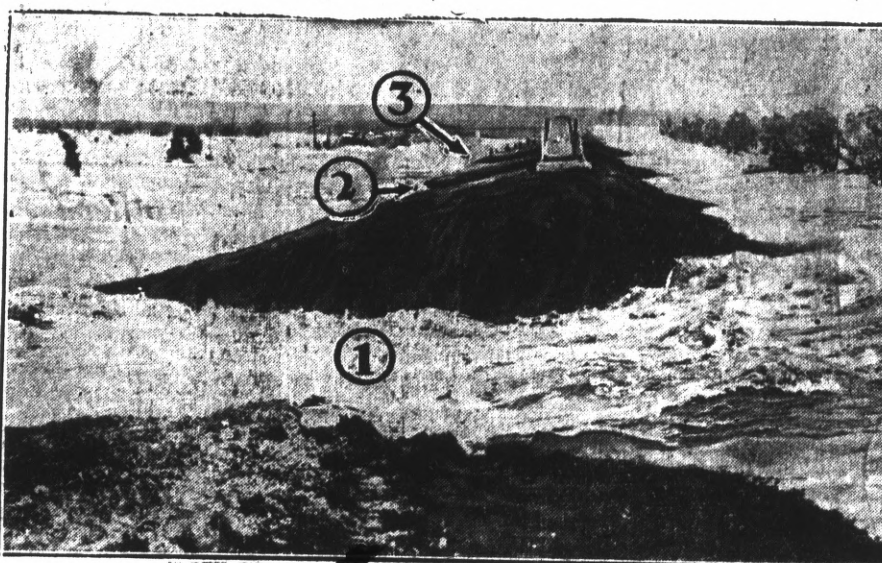

"It looks as though the levee will crash any moment," said Secretary Hoover, adding:

C. Of C. Adopts Resolutions Urging Spur Track, Extension Of Franchise, Harbor Lease

Resolutions urging the state railroad commission to grant the application of the Richmond Navigation and Improvement Company and the Enterprise foundry for a permit to construct a spur track connecting with the Santa Fe line at Atchison avenue and Second street, crossing Cutting Boulevard at the grade, were unanimously adopted by the directors of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce meeting at the new Hotel Carquinez at noon yesterday.

The chamber of commerce also adopted resolutions, which will be forwarded to Governor C. C. Young, urging the state's chief executive to sign the bill providing for a ten-year extension of the American Toll Bridge Company's franchise in operation the mighty Carquinez bridge, which formally opens Saturday, May 21; to sign the Easley bill which permits cities to lease their waterfront lands for a period of 50 years, providing there is nothing in the municipal charters which forbids such action on the part of the city officials.

Both the above measures passed both houses of the legislature and are now in the hands of Governor Young for signature.

In the matter of the spur track asked for by the Richmond Navigation and Improvement company and the Enterprise Foundry, a letter was read from Captain H. P. Lauritzen pointing out that the city council had already approved the proposition.

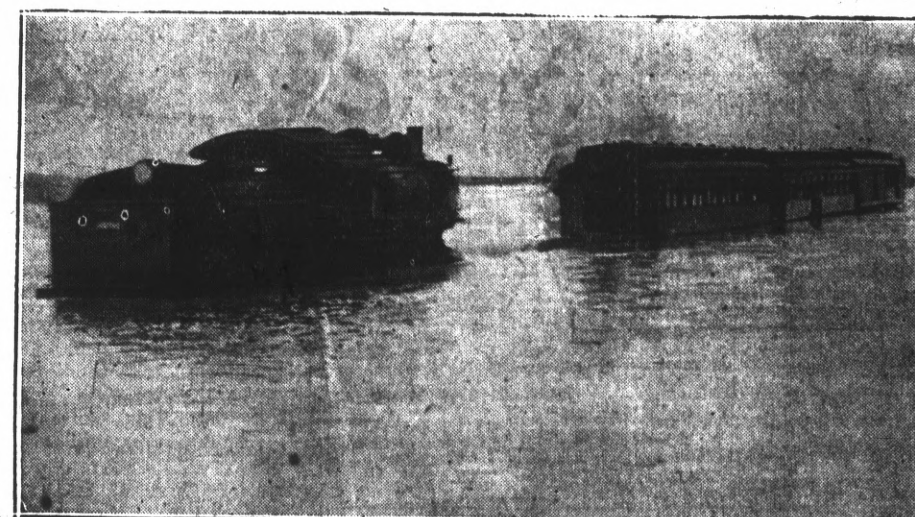

The spur track will not only serve the two companies mentioned but the Duntanson & Harrellson company, and by bringing the Cutting canal, the San Francisco Bridge company property owned by H. C. Cutting and the Minter estate would also be served by the spur track.

The invitation extended by Director W. T. Helms to the directors to attend the corner stone laying ceremonies of Richmond's new high school next Saturday afternoon, was accepted by a rising vote.

300 LEPERS THREATENED BY FLOODS

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The famous leper colony near Carville, La., with its 300 inmates virtually living in exile, is doomed to flood if the levee breaks below Baton Rouge, Red Cross officials announced today.

Plans for evacuating the lepers are being considered. Should the colony become flooded, they will be housed in a tent camp on a nearby levee until the waters subside.

Some of the lepers are veterans of former floods, having lived in the colony for many years.

The community was established by the state of Louisiana 40 years ago. About 12 years ago, the federal government converted it into a national leprosarium.

DETROIT, May 11.—"Corset wearers are doomed to everlasting torment—of the lungs and ribs," declared P. N. Perkins, lingerie manufacturer in an address before the Amalgamated Tire Vulcanizers here today.

"It is a question, however," he added, "whether there is much danger of American women suffering much in this generation. Whale bone prices are on the decline and so are hour-glass figures."

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Waving farewell to a passing motorist Joseph F. Herman, tire chain manufacturer, plunged 200 feet to his death from the Connecticut Avenue bridge over Rock Creek Park today. Despondency over business investments was given by relatives as the cause for the suicide.

The Department of Agriculture predicts cheaper apple pie because of the supply of fruit, but we seriously doubt whether we will ever get back to the good old days when you got a one-fourth cut for a nickel.

We are certainly living in a fast age. A four-year-old Pennsylvania boy shot and killed his mother because she wouldn't let him play with matches.

Men Who Made the World

GREAT MEN DO DARING THINGS AND MUCH AFTER THE SAME FASHION. YEARS BEFORE DRAKE ARRIVED ON THE SPANISH MAIN, THE DARING SPANIARD, FERNANDO CORTES, TO PREVENT HIS MEN DESIRING TO RETURN HOME, DELIBERATELY SCUTTLED HIS SHIPS. DRAKE NOW EMPLOYED THE SAME TACTICS. HE REALIZED THAT HE MUST PREPARE FOR A STAY THROUGH THE WINTER. TO DO THIS, IT WAS NECESSARY TO DESTROY ONE OF HIS TWO SHIPS IN ORDER TO HAVE SUFFICIENT MEN FOR HIS OPERATIONS. KNOWING THAT HIS SAILORS WOULD STRENUOUSLY OBJECT, HE TOOK THE SHIP'S CARPENTER INTO HIS CONFIDENCE AND IN THE NIGHT HE DRILLED THREE HOLES IN THE BOTTOM OF THE BIGGEST VESSEL, "THE SWAN." BY MORNING, THE WATER HAD MADE SUCH HEADWAY THAT THE MEN'S HOPES OF SAVING THE SHIP, WHICH THEY ASSUMED HAD SPRUNG A LEAK, WERE GONE. EVERYTHING ON BOARD WAS TRANSFERRED TO THE REMAINING SMALL VESSEL AND SOON AFTER THE STANCHION "SWAN" SANK TO A WATERY GRAVE.

SECOND VERSE OF THE MAILMAN'S LAMENT

Some readers may recall that not long ago (January 23) we presented here the testimony of a mailman who was often cold and wet yet without sound in body and mind. The only evidence of grave mental aberration manifest in the mailman's story was what "all the nice old ladies" along his beat kept telling him, viz., that he is crazy not to bundle up his throat and wear a warm hat and wear his rubbers every day. Then there was one little flaw in the mailman's testimony, as a testimonial. At the close he mentioned that he takes his lodin ration and he wonders "what this world might have been if all the serious conscientious drinkers had drunk lodin instead of liquor."

This allusion prompted a lot of readers to inquire whether the mailman means that he had found the lodin ration a cure for the liquor habit. No, I've had to explain to so many of 'em that wasn't what the mailman meant to imply. He meant to imply that maybe an adequate lodin ration would have made people feel so well that they would not have craved the effect of alcohol. But never mind about the lodin ration now. The mailman has kindly consented to chant the second verse of his lament for us today:

"I have been rolling somersaults, from 10 to 33 each night, and as a result I haven't taken a pill in three months. Before I took 'em morning, noon and night. Besides that I had a health examination by our family physician."

(I have already explained that this mailman is sound in mind; notice he didn't send off to some institute for his health examination; he went to the family doctor for it.)

But never mind about the lodin ration now. The mailman has kindly consented to chant the second verse of his lament for us today:

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

In Reply to Same We Beg to State Have read your recent statement pertaining to sex information and would appreciate it very much if you would send me your booklet in regards to same. (B. R. S.)

ANSWER—I have no booklet or other printed material to distribute. If you will give me some inkling as to your age, your sex, and in close a stamped envelope bearing your address I may be able to give you the instruction, information or advice you need, but I promise nothing. It is up to me to decide whether I shall reply to such queries. I had rather refuse to answer a dozen proper questions than give such information or instruction where it will not do good. Please remember this is a personal health service.

ANSWER—I'll never tell.

Phenacetine

Several months ago you spoke of the harmfulness of phenacetine in connection with Feminex tablets. My physician tells me that phenacetine taken alone is detrimental, but taken with equal parts of aspirin it would be more effective in relieving pain and not so depressing as when taken alone. The formula given for Feminex is 2-1-2 grains of phenacetine and the same amount of aspirin, with half grain of phenolphthalein (laxative) and one-quarter grain of caffeine. My doctor says the caffeine is a stimulant which tends to overcome the depressing effect of the phenacetine. And the small amount of laxative in each tablet tends to prevent overdose. (F. M.)

ANSWER—Your doctor's view is the generally accepted view of the medical profession, though I personally believe phenacetine is harmful even though caffeine or other heart stimulant be taken with it. It is probably less injurious when taken with aspirin, but such statements as caffeine, and the combination of two or more such pain killers as phenacetine, aspirin or other coaltar derivatives is probably less depressant than an equal quantity of any one of them. If I were a sufferer, I should be guided by my physician's advice, rather than the mere opinion or belief of a newspaper writer about such a thing. Perhaps it is necessary to remind readers, whenever I may allude to the harmful effects of a given medicine, that I am speaking only of self-doctoring, for often the very medicine I condemn is a valuable remedy and a safe one in the hands of a physician. But I am cramped here and cannot always do this. Often it happens that an intoxicated lady in Kalamazoo has kicked the windshield out of a taxi and that important news requires considerable gets a brisk start and gives a space.

JUNE FOR MARRIAGES AND JOBS

Well boys and girls, it is getting pretty close to June. If the annual report card is good, pa and ma will let you go to college. If it is poor you will tear it up and tell them you are going to work. So along about this time of the year I always ask these questions: What place are you going to occupy in this world and how are you going to find that place? Are you going to be a little load in a big puddle or a big load in a small puddle? Perhaps you are going to be like the frog that fell into a can of cream and splashed so hard he made a batch of butter on which he could rest and eventually get out of the can.

Are you on the fence? If so, are you asleep or are you looking for the door of the gate that points out for you possible occupations? What can I do in my free Service Bureau to enlarge your ideas and thinking? Remember you cannot rise higher than your unit of thought. If you are going to have a day-a-day job looks good and satisfactory to you, you will be a two-dollar-and-a-half-a-day man. As a laboring man you are worth $2.50 a day from your collar button down. All that you make over that depends on what you have stored in your head.

Have you seen my "Life Success Chart"? If you are a teacher have you ever seen my very good inspirational talk to the "Boy On The Fence"? If you are a father, you asked me to give you a book on "Vocational Careers" if you are a girl have you ever asked me to give you a book on "The Day You Get the Diploma and the Day the Gold Band is Slipped" certain finger on your left hand?

Understand and thus make it say for yourself.

It is the teachers who are the delinquents. I recently heard a teacher say "I have received 25 cents too much," but he never returned it.

In an experiment I made I gave to 15 individuals picked at random one cent too much. Thirteen of these were returned. How is this for an answer to those Columbia University professors who spent thousands of dollars studying as Josh Billings would say, on "things which ain't so?"

LITERATURE

HER PLAY: I simply can't understand why you spend your good money for such silly books. The idea of paying three dollars for a book about "How to Make a Fortune by Will Power." How perfectly absurd. And then that library you bought about "Famous Captains of Industry—Be One Yourself." I have to laugh when I think how you were so glib to give that book agent $12 for such absurd stuff. What good does it do you? I don't believe you've turned half a dozen pages in the whole assortment since you got it.

HIS COUNTERPLAY: Indeed? I suppose you would think I was a real intellectual if I bought a few of the fragrant contributions to literature from the pen of Elmer Glyn? Just because the kinds of books I read are all Greek to you convicts me in your mind of being a noodle, hey? Would you like to have me buy a padded edition of the Popular Poets for the living room table? I see you're reading that new stuff about "Huh! The Movie Stars Behave." That's a nice lot of stuff for a moron to get a thrill with, but I did suppose I was married to a grown-up woman. My literary tastes may be common, but...

SYNOPSIS

Mary "Elaine" Sullivan—slender, beautiful, red-headed—is an orphan. Wally Kason, a young reporter, lives with her. But she disbelievers in him. Mary keeps house for her brother, David, and Bobby, David, the family support, hopes Mary will get married. David is sentenced to prison for an auto fatality. The Charity Department takes Bobby. Wally proposes; Mary goes to New York, and gets a rooming place in a notorious night club. It is raided. In the morning the owner and dancers are let off with fines and reprimands.

Justly they turned to go it had been so much less harrowing than they had thought. No mention had been made of Mary, who had watched the proceedings with the beat of her heart sounding loud in her ears. When the others joyfully kissed and tightened their wraps to leave, she too, felt the sudden let-down, the dropping of the weight that had crushed her. She swallowed, and closed her eyes. Well, she thought, What an experience. Mary, walking the high places in a prison cell. She smiled a bit wryly. The feat had been difficult of accomplishment. The Judge leaned back in his high chair, wearily. He placed his spectacles more firmly on his nose, and droned, "Miss Sullivan."

"Yes!" said Mary, startled. The sudden shock of her name spoken with such easy familiarity in surroundings such as these brought her hand to her heart. He had addressed none of the others by name. She felt the weight again, as though it had been lowered with a vicious jerk by unsympathetic hands from above.

"You will please remain, Miss Sullivan," said the Judge. "The sudden shock of her name spoken with such easy familiarity in surroundings such as these brought her hand to her heart. He had addressed none of the others by name. She felt the weight again, as though it had been lowered with a vicious jerk by unsympathetic hands from above."

Unlucky Date Set For Sash Case. Sentence

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, May 11.—Friday, the thirteenth, was set today as the date on which Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray will be sentenced to the electric chair for the death of the woman's husband, Albert Snyder.

Judge Scudder, who has previously fixed next Monday as the date for sentencing the convicted couple, today notified the attorneys in the case that the time had been switched to Friday.

Gray issued a statement today in which he praised the jury for the verdict which he termed "wise and sensible."

"If I had been sitting on the jury and heard the same evidence, I should have brought in the same verdict," he said.

"I have received the forgiveness of my mother, my wife and my friends. I have told the truth and I feel that my conscience is clear. I am ready to die."

Mrs. Snyder received a visit from her mother today. The prisoner is reported to have recovered from her hysteria following her conviction.

Gray today repeated his request that he be allowed to see his former sweetheart before they go to the death house at Sing Sing.

"I do not want to hurt her," he said. "I bear her no ill will."

She said she had no desire to see him.

About the only time Gray will see her again, will be Friday in court, but there will be no opportunity then to be alone with her, as he requests.

TRUNK MURDER UNEARTHED BY SCOTLAND YARD

(By ROBERT J. PREW)
(By Universal Service)
Special Cable Dispatch
LONDON, May 11.—Scotland Yard is confronted with another "trunk crime" which has gripped public attention with the same intensity as did the slaying of Elsie Sigel in New York ten years ago. Last Friday a man let an old fashioned black trunk in the cloak room at a Charing Cross station in the heart of London. This morning it was opened and found to contain the dismembered body of a woman.

The body was that of a woman apparently about 30 years old. It was cut or saved into eight parts, each wrapped in brown paper. The woman's clothing, shoes and an empty handbag were also in the trunk.

The police announced the woman was murdered probably three years ago, and that the dismemberment had been carried out by an unskilled hand, probably using a saw.

At first the Scotland Yard chiefs thought they were facing a mystery which would be difficult to elucidate, but facts were soon developed that apparently show amazing carelessness on the part of the criminal in leaving clues behind.

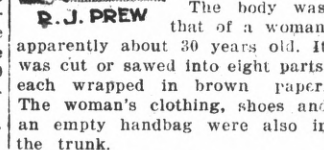

After leaving the trunk in the station the man threw away the check which was picked up by a bootblack and returned to the cloak room. Then the trunk was found to bear a small label, with the inscription, "Auste St. Leonards." The place is a South Coast resort. The trunk also bore a large letter "A."

The fact that twelve other similar trunks were left at the cloak room last Friday made it difficult for the clerks to identify the depositor of the woman's remains, but detectives are now searching for a man hastily described as between thirty and forty, of medium height, and wearing a dark gray suit with soft felt hat.

The inquiry is concentrated mostly at St. Leonards.

All day today Scotland Yard's hunt continued for the perpetrator of London's latest trunk crime. They located the store where the murderer purchased the trunk and obtained a description of the man as of medium build, with a handsome face and fresh complexion. He bought the trunk a week ago from a South London second hand trunk dealer and carried it away on his back.

Evidence that many women are missing in London was provided by the fact that there were numerous callers at Westminster morgue seeking to identify the woman's dismembered remains. No definite clue has yet been obtained from this source.

Local Youth Is Killed In Crash

Returning from a vacation trip in the northwest, Carl A. WOMAN FAINTS IN TRIAL OVER FILM MURDER

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, May 11.—A woman juror in the trial of Pauline, motion picture actress, for the murder of Ray Raymond, "song and dance man," was taken ill and excused this morning from further service. She was Mrs. Phoebe Egelter and her place was filled by Paul F. Hill, one of the two alternates.

Soon after Mrs. Egelter's illness, Miss Dorothy Mackaye, stage actress and Raymond's widow, turned pale as she listened to county Surgeon A. F. Wagner describe in detail the autopsy on her husband's body. She hurriedly left the room with a nurse in attendance and did not return for the remainder of the session. It was announced that she was nauseated, but not seriously ill.

Except for an unsuccessful attempt by Defense Attorney W. I. Gilbert to force an admission from Dr. Wagner that Raymond, who died three days after a fist fight with Kelly, might have come to his death through natural causes, the morning testimony was chiefly a description of the condition of the body at the autopsy. Dr. Wagner stuck tenaciously to his opinion that the brain hemorrhage revealed by the autopsy was caused by some external violence.

Fred C. Kohl, architect, the only other witness during the morning, identified a floor plan of the Raymond home where the fatal encounter occurred.

Ethel Lee, the only eye witness to the battle beside Valerie Raymond's four year old daughter, was scheduled to take the stand later in the day.

Dr. Maltzer J. Sullivan, who with Miss Mackaye will be tried on June 16, for an alleged attempt to "cover up" the death, was in the courtroom. The usually crowded corridors of the court were filled with curious packed the courtroom but less than a score obtained admittance to the small courtroom.

JAIL DOES NOT PREVENT CRIME SAYS GOVERNOR

(By Universal Service)
ATLANTA, Ga., May 11.—The Baumes law of New York providing for the automatic life term for fourth offenses, was sharply criticized by Governor Clifford Walker in a statement just issued, in which he said that scientific research and not harsh punishment was the only solution to the crime situation. Clinics for the study of physical, mental and environmental conditions of criminals were the crying need of the nation, he said.

The governor's statement said: "The extreme crime wave reformers would abolish probation, parole and indeterminate sentence, increase the severity and length of punishment, and frighten human nature into submission. However, they believe their own faith by providing that when a man has committed four felonies he shall be imprisoned for life! A harshly mechanical system of penalties strengthens the plea of the sentimentalist for clemency, encourages the unscrupulous lawyer to accomplish the acquittal of his client by unethical means, assures an easier release for the criminal experienced in evading justice and a longer course in the university of crime for the beginner, and vitiates a penalty of death for holdup with a weapon, not appreciating the necessity it puts upon the bandit to kill his victim and thus prevent them from pursuing and identifying their assailant."

"It hardly seems necessary to prove that crime cannot be prevented by fear of punishment, by degrading associations, or by harsh cruel and inhumane treatment. Such methods have been given a fair trial in the long history of the race. There is no short cut to the transformation of a delinquent. It must be attained by the long road of scientific improvement of our penal system."

LYA DE PUTTI, MENJOU, STARS AT CALIFORNIA

You'll be sorry if you miss "Sorrows of Satan," D. W. Griffith's latest Paramount picture, which opened at the California theatre last evening should be seen by each and every movie-goer, because—

It advances the technique of motion picture direction in the tremendous leap and places the film miles ahead of others. Once more, Griffith proves himself the Great Maestro. Because—

Pantomime is placed on a higher level than ever before. Adolphe Menjou as a modern Satan leaves nothing to be desired. Ricardo Cortez proves himself an actor of depth and feeling. Carol Dempster is superb and Lya de Putti, making her first American appearance, carves a niche for herself in the hearts of American film fans. And because—

Marie Corelli's widely read novel makes good picture material. "Sorrows of Satan" tells the story of Lucifer, thrown from heaven with the promise of a year of bliss within the Gates of Paradise for each soul which resists him.

We are then introduced to Geoffrey Tempest, a struggling, idealistic, young writer and his fiancée, Mavis Claire. Both, temporarily in the throes of despair, have great hope for the future due to the contemplated publishing of Geoffrey's novel. His publisher turns it down.

Prince Lucio de Rimanez approaches Tempest and informs him that he has fallen heir to a huge fortune. Lured by the man's magnetic personality, Geoffrey forgets Mavis in his new life of luxury, and makes love to Lady Sybil, daughter of an impoverished nobleman. Attracted by the cut's money, Sybil marries him. Too late, he realizes that his marriage has been a terrible burden.

Other features include "Howdy Duke," Lupino Lane comedy; "International News"; and Larry Canelo at the organ.

Oakland, Cal., April 16, 1926.
During the past eight months I suffered from rheumatism in my hands and legs. Although I tried various remedies and doctors, I obtained no results.

I had also suffered from colitis and kidney troubles for eighteen years and had been treated by more than thirty doctors in Seattle and Oakland. Most of the medicine that they gave me had had effect on these organs, and did not improve in any way. At last, however, I found most wonderful relief in the FONG WAN HERB TREATMENT. I came to Fong Wan to take the tea for rheumatism but not only has the rheumatism gone, but my kidneys and intestines are in fine condition and I am free at last from pain.

"MIDNIGHT SUN" NOW ON BILL AT RICHMOND

"The Midnight Sun," a picture remarkable for the dramatic strength of its story, for the richness and color of its scenes, and for the acting power of its players, is now the attraction at the Richmond theatre. It is Universal's most recent Super-Jewel and is a worthy successor to its other big productions. It was directed by Dimitri Buchowetzki, noted Russian playwright, and presented by four featured players and an all-star cast.

The picture is a spectacular and dramatic story of St. Petersburg, Russia, during the reign of the last czar. All of the selective luxury of the nobility and the country's wealth has been brought and presented in a lavish manner. The story centers around a dancing girl, who through the influence of a Grand Duke and of Russia's financial king, brings herself from the ranks of the Imperial Russian Ballet to the position of its premiere ballerina. Playing one against the other the girl loses her heart to a young officer of the Duke's household. Out of this, with tragic of nihilists' plotting, comes intrigue, romance and drama.

Laura La Plante steps out of her customary comedienne roles to show that she is equally good in the drama. As the dancing girl who trades on her beauty for position, but withholds herself from her two most persistent admirers, Miss La Plante has scored a distinct triumph.

Pat O'Malley, the second of the featured players, does something new, even for Pat. He has surpassed himself in his masterful impersonation of Grand Duke Sergius. O'Malley has taken to himself all the aristocratic bearing and hauteur of the nobility of Russia in 1912, and is resplendent in the colorful uniforms of the period. He "gets over" with feeling and effect.

Raymond Keane, as Alexei Okuneff, the young officer who wins the dancing girl despite powerful rivals, is destined for high honors in filmdom.

Other features include "Howdy Duke," Lupino Lane comedy; "International News"; and Larry Canelo at the organ.

PAY REBELS TO LAY DOWN ARMS IN NICARAGUA

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, May 11.—Nicaraguan rebels are to be paid to lay down their arms, Henry L. Stimson, the peace envoy of President Coolidge at that country, advised by cable today.

Each rebel is to receive $10 for his rifle, or other weapon, a certain amount of clothing and supplies to enable him to return to civilian pursuits. The money is to be paid by the Nicaraguan government, it is understood, as a result of Mr. Stimson's negotiations with General Moncada, leader of the rebels.

Moncada advised Stimson that he is on his way back to rejoin his troops and will endeavor to persuade them to turn in their arms. Moncada explained, however, that it would require at least eight days for him to communicate with his unit and asked that a general truce be declared for that period. This, it was stated, has been agreed upon.

The rebels, however, persist in their refusal to have anything to do with the Nicaraguan government headed by Adolfo Diaz and recognized by the United States. Stimson declared. They have declined to accept any political posts offered them in the cabinet, or to be identified with the government in any way.

The rebel leader insisted upon having a letter from Stimson threatening him with marine intervention against his army unless he would agree to lay down his arms and this letter was given him, it was stated. It is to be shown to his army in an effort to persuade them of the futility of continuing the revolution.

Huge Plane Review To Be Held In Texas

(By Universal Service)
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 11.—With the arrival of 18 pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., at Kelly Field late today, Brig. Gen. Fechet announced a general inspection and review of the combined air forces that are here for the combined ground and air maneuvers for Thursday.

More than 300 fighting planes are staged out at the army's three San Antonio flying fields and Thursday's inspection and review, air Corps officials said today, will bring together more airplanes than were ever assembled at one place in the United States since the World War.

10 KILLED AND 25 INJURED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Former Chief Of Police Is Sent To Prison

CHICAGO, May 11.—"Indian Joe" Huzar, former chief of police of Broadview, was sentenced to from one to fourteen years in the state prison today for assault with intent to commit murder.

The arrest and trial of the former officer followed an investigation into speed traps, in which it was charged the chief collected money from persons, who had not violated the law.

Charges of assault were filed by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Schieffer of Oak Park, who alleged that Huzar had collected $22 from them when he said he would arrest them on a disorderly conduct charge unless they paid. At the time, they said they were sitting in their automobile eating popcorn.

BLAST VICTIMS ARE BURIED IN FALLING RUINS

Gas Filled Basement Is Ignited By Drug Store Fire

(By Universal Service)
DALLAS, Tex., May 11.—Ten were killed and 25 seriously injured in an explosion that demolished the Odd Fellows hall building at Second and Forest avenues late tonight.

Only two of the dead had been identified up to midnight. They were Henry Lee, a fireman, who was killed by a falling wall, and W. D. Hill, a street car conductor, who was blown across the street into a filling station.

Fear that more than ten bodies unaccounted for will be discovered in the ruins was expressed by firemen who said it would be morning before the smoldering ashes had cooled sufficiently to allow a thorough search.

Fire which preceded the explosion broke out in a drug store on the ground floor of the building. The basement was apparently filled with gas. Firemen who were fighting the flames in the rear of the building said the blast came immediately after the flames ate through the flooring.

RARE VIOLIN IS RECOVERED

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, May 11.—The famous Paganini violin, lost seven weeks ago in Los Angeles following a concert by Efrem Zimbalist, was believed to have been recovered here today with the arrest of Herman Shivel, 25.

He had brought a violin into the Lyon & Healy's rare violin department for appraisal and the instrument was promptly identified owing to the unusual color of the Italian wood. Shivel told authorities that the instrument was obtained in exchange for his own violin and $500 from a man named Brass, whom he met in a music store in Kansas City.

The famous old violin was made in 1743 and disappeared from the dressing room of the noted Russian violinist while he was taking curtain calls following his concert.

Seven Die In Mystery Blast

INVESTIGATION by the Police and Building departments are being made in an effort to discover the cause of a mysterious blast which destroyed a two-story building of the Yellow Taxicab Company in New York city, killed five men and two girls and injured more than twenty others, Friday afternoon.

Passers-by heard a muffled explosion. They saw the two-story building quiver and then collapse in a heap of ruins.

Screams and cries for aid, coming from those entombed beneath the floors, added to the general confusion.

Rescuers had to work against time, for a water main had burst, and those planned in the basement were helpless as the water rose. Engines from the Fire Department pumped desperately, gaining only a few inches a minute over the flood from the water main.

Five men, drowned, were located, and later two girls were found pinned beneath wreckage in a corner of the cellar.

Officials could not account for the explosion. Photo at right shows priest (indicated by arrow) who administered last rites to dying victims, and (top) shows smoke rising from demolished building.

"SUGAR BOWL" OF LOUISIANA FACES MENACE

fleet of vessels along the bayou Des Glaizes in readiness for the expected break to get the people out.

Through the credit agencies being set up in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi, $10,000,000 will be made available for loans to farmers and business interests to get started after the flood waters recede, he announced.

These corporations will have a total capitalization of about $3,250,000 and they will be entitled to redemptive privileges with the Federal Intermediate banks up to about $3 for every $1 of capitalization, Hoover said.

While James L. Fieser, acting national chairman of the Red Cross, gave final instructions to the local relief workers on plans for coping with the disaster that hovers over the "Sugar Bowl" section of Louisiana, Hoover conferred with John M. Parker, Louisiana flood director.

"Louisiana is ready for the blow," was Hoover's comment as he boarded a train for Vicksburg.

Doctors, merchants, lawyers and even women and children were in the mighty struggle on the levees with nature run wild, to check it before southern Louisiana is laid waste.

Banker, barber and preacher rubbed elbows with the ex-convict and town loafers in the frantic battle to hold the levees.

Every resource of the state and nation has been mobilized to rescue victims of a break, which was expected to occur momentarily on the Bayou Des Glaizes. The Big Bend levee was expected to crumble momentarily from the pressure of water rolling down through the Texas basin.

Business has been suspended in towns in the immediate path of the threatened torrent. Moreauville, Voodooes and Bordelonville have every able bodied man available at work on the levees.

While the fight goes on to strengthen the levee, relief agencies have prepared for the worst. Camp sites have been selected for the refugees. There will be 25,000 to 40,000 of them as soon as the levee crumbles.

They will be removed to Opelousas, Marksville, Bunkie and Lafayette, high places unlikely to be inundated. Some of the refugees will be brought to Baton Rouge and Natchez.

A mighty armada, the largest that ever patrolled the Mississippi, stands in readiness to evacuate entire communities. Hundreds of surf boats are ready to comb the countryside for victims.

However, many of the farmers in the path of the imminent deluge are preparing to "ride out" the flood. They have built high platforms for their livestock, provisioned their homes for a long siege and moved all furniture to an upper story, where they will be penned for several weeks.

(By Universal Service)
BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—

Another tragedy of the Mississippi lowlands is being enacted tonight. Ten thousand people south of the Bayou Des Glaizes stand ready to leave their homes and flee before the great flood that will inundate their homes and farms when the protecting levees give way.

Although hundreds of men are working frantically to strengthen them, the levees cannot hold, according to competent engineers.

The Hegira has started from villages near the levees. Stores are deserted and farmers have left their fields. They are making to places of safety.

The farther back in the doomed hinterland the men sit about with their families in a dull silence that is in marked contrast to the excited faces of the children, faces of little fellows too young to catch the import of the dreadful calamity that engineers say is inevitable.

Here and there a man is still at work in his field waist deep in waving corn, or up and down the rows of cotton, tiny cotton plants, his face grim and set, his hands moving listlessly, while he refuses to believe that his home will be window-deep in a muddy sea, and his crops buried under three feet of water.

For ten days more the fight must continue, unless the levee crumbles as the weather bureau says today that the peak will not reach Bayou Des Glaizes for a fortnight.

But engineers realize that it will last that long, for a five-foot knoll cannot be built to stand up on a levee which is less than four feet wide, and hold back a surging inland sea.

Every family has its weather-beaten little automobile prepared. Complete plans have been made for the evacuation of the land from the bayou to the Gulf of Mexico, though families will continue to live in their upper stories, where they are out of the current's flow.

But between 25,000 and 50,000 persons must leave their homes if the break comes.

Along the Bayou they will be taken from the levee by the coast guard boats, which were ordered today by the state relief office here to move into strategic positions. But far down the country-side, in the historic old Evangeline country along Bayou Teche, the sleepy little villages are 100 miles removed from the tossing waters calculated to pour over them, and it seems incredible to the villagers that their homes are doomed by a stream they've never seen in their isolated lives.

They will have at least five days in which to leave after a crevasse in the Glyzaes region, however, and those on higher ground may be able to remain with safety, although property will be destroyed as surely as that of the anxious people within sight of the unprecedented expanse of waters above the levee divide.

(By Universal Service)
BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—

The levee at Big Bend on Bayou Des Glaizes will crumble within 72 hours, said a telegram received by John M. Parker, Louisiana flood director, early this morning from a governmental observer there.

A crevasse there will result in inundation of all or part of five parishes, comprising a population of 170,956 persons and over $1,000,000 acres of land divided into 15,507 farms. Property damage of $30,000,000 will result.

BEER GUZZLERS TIP THEM HIGH IN OLD MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, May 11.—Mexico is well on the road toward rivaling Bavaria as a producer and consumer of high-grade beers.

This was revealed today by the official figures of the federal bureau of national statistics showing a marked increase in the production of Mexican breweries during the year just ended.

The government's compilations disclose that in a single year the production of beer in Mexico rose approximately 30 per cent to an aggregate of 70,000,000 quarts.

That is at the rate of five quarts of beer for every man, woman and child south of the Rio Grande and north of the Rio Suchiate. Some, of course, admit quite frankly that they get more than their pro rata share each year.

The increase of 1926 over 1925 marks a new trend in Mexican taste. The traditional national drink of Mexico is pulque, the fermented juice of a form of cactus. The entire republic, according to the best estimates, spend about $17,000,000 annually for about 300,000,000 quarts of pulque.

But now, although Mexico consumes more than four times as much pulque as beer, it spends for its new favorite considerably more money each year. Those 70,000,000 quarts during 1926 probably cost the ultimate consumers around $25,000,000.

Moreover, it is good beer, even the most fastidious native of Munich sojourning in Mexico admits openly its excellent quality, and proves by his personal consumption that he means what he says.

Standard Oil Scores Victory In Oil Tangle

(By Universal Service)

SPECIAL Wireless Dispatch
BERLIN, May 11.—The Standard Oil company today won an important skirmish in the world wide fight for oil. Standard scored heavily against its greatest rival, the Royal Dutch Shell, and demonstrated a lesson in practical business to the European governments now theorizing about the best way to deal with Russia at the Geneva conference.

The Standard's victory consisted in signing a contract by which Standard grants the Soviet government Oil Trust, the "acneft," $3,000,000 credit for the construction of a pipe line from Baku to Batum.

The church has purchased new chairs and every effort will be made to find seats for those attending the service. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock. A real treat is in store for the music lovers of Richmond.

YAKUIS RAKED BY FEDERAL GUN FIRE

(By Universal Service)

NOGALES, Arizona, May 11.—Raked by a murderous machine gun fire from a nest on the hills to the southwest of the city, a band of 400 rebellious Yaqui warriors was repulsed with heavy losses late today, messages received here by courier from federal outposts said.

The well armed Indians, led by General Luis Matuz, chief of the Yaquis, and avowed follower of Adolfo de la Huerta, a former provisional president of Mexico, marched into a cleverly concealed ambush, the message revealed.

Marching to lay siege to this town, the red men were first encountered by federal troops late last night, who retired after making contact with the warriors.

Entrenchments south of Nogales were hastily thrown up during the night and today were manned by several thousand infantrymen, supported by two batteries of light artillery.

Machine gun outposts were concealed on hills commanding highways leading to the city.

LANE STARS AS MECHANICS BEAT BARREL HOUSE

GENE KERSTEN HURLS STEADY BALL TO WIN

"Wee Willie" Lane and his bat were very much in evidence last night at the First street ball park, with the result that the Barrel House was defeated by the Mechanics, 5 to 1. All that Lane did during the afternoon was to collect two home runs and two singles, his efforts alone being enough to topple the Barrel House tossers down from their first place position.

Lane, held hitless in his opening game here last week, wielded his bat with telling effect last night. The former Seattle infielder drove the ball over the left field fence for a homer in the first, hit a single to center in the third, homered over the left field wall again in the fifth and singled again in the sixth frame.

Lane's two circuit smashes were enough to win for the Mechanics, but the Barrel House infielders made a mechanic victory certain by contributing several woody plays in the field. Artie Schimpff, veteran shortstop, was the chief offender, making two errors that figured in the scoring.

But even as Billy Lane had his day, so did Gene Kersten, mechanic pitcher. Displaying some of the old-time form that won him a trial with the Oaks a number of years ago, Gene held the Barrel House sluggers to six scattered hits.

"Lefty" Cothran, who opposed him on the mound, pitched a far different game than he did last week in the opener. He allowed eight hits during the six innings that he toiled on the hilltop, four of them being registered by Billy Lane.

After Lane had given the Mechanics a one-run lead in the first spasm with his clout into "Little Tijuana," the Barrel House came right back in its half of the opening round to tie the score. Peters' double to deep left did the trick, sending home Artie Schimpff, who has previously singled.

Lane drove home the winning run in the fifth when he lifted one of Cothran's slants over the screen in left field. The Mechanics added another in the same frame, and then proceeded to ice the game by collecting two more markers in the sixth.

Sidelights of the Game

In addition to putting up a brilliant exhibition at bat, Lane starred in the field by making a pretty running catch of Snively's fly to left center in the first inning. A hit at this period would have proved disastrous for the Mechanics as there were two Barrel House tossers on the bags.

"Anchovie" Bartoli, who laid aside his catcher's glove to step into a right field berth yesterday, also made some nice plays in the field for the Mechanics. In the second inning he took Ray Fitzgerald's drive right up against the right field boards, and in the seventh frame got Kersten out of a tough hole by repeating the performance against Ray Fitzgerald.

Tony Lamarra, mechanic shortstop, turned in the outstanding play of the day when he made a pretty catch and throw to first on Wetzel's difficult grounder past third.

Babe Borton gave Cothran a life in the fifth inning when he took his time about getting back to first after fielding his bunt, with the result that the little southpaw slid into first safely.

In addition to calling balls and strikes in an efficient manner,

"Spike" Elder is further adding to the good cause by hustling the tossers through their paces so that the fans can get home reasonably early.

Joie Ray Is Sued For Non Support

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, May 10.—Joie Ray, America's crack distance runner for the past twelve years, was today sued for separate maintenance in the Circuit court by his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Ray.

Mrs. Ray alleges her husband was satisfied to let her struggle against poverty while he was being decorated with medals and ribbons in Europe as well as America, his expenses being paid at the best hotels and athletic clubs, while she was doing without a winter coat.

While Ray was at the height of his career, hobnobbing with wealthy sportsmen, his wife was clerking at a department store or peddling cosmetics from door to door, the bill relates.

Her plea for alimony discloses that Ray is no longer in the lap of the Illinois Athletic club, enjoying the comfort that was once his. He is now laboring in Gary, Ind., for $33 a week, according to the bill.

effect that the Cameroon had picked up a message saying the men had been taken aboard the Comte Rossi of Lloyd Sabaud Line.

The message from the Cameroon, however, made no mention of that and it is regarded as false. Besides officials of the Lloyd Sabaud line say they know nothing about it.

The far flung search for the missing fliers will continue tomorrow.

The giant dirigible Los Angeles will join the hunt at dawn.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today ordered the Los Angeles to get ready for the quest.

Thirty United States ships and airplanes took part in the hunt today. Until afternoon the search was confined chiefly to the coast and inlets of New England and Newfoundland, but late in the day the boats and seaplanes pushed out into the ocean with the hope of finding the biw White Bird and its occupants.

Far out at sea lookout men have been placed in the crow's nest of all passenger ships with instructions to keep up a constant watch.

The search today was termed by officials as a "full speed search."

It will be vastly augmented and expanded tomorrow.

In the meantime Canada is conducting a thorough hunt but reported tonight that the day's labors had been in vain.

On the other side of the Atlantic England and France are using their ships to seek the missing men in all waters where it is considered possible for them to have become lost.

In the meantime Clarence Chamberlain and Lloyd Bertaud went ahead with their plans to hop off for Paris next Saturday.

It was also learned today that Commander Byrd will be ready to make a trans-Atlantic dash within ten days.

PRESTIGE OF THE WHITE RACE IN CHINA DOOMED

(By Universal Service)
CANTON, May 11.—The doom of white race prestige in general in China and Asia, and the defining of Britain's power in particular, is sealed. That appears to be the consensus of opinion of the larger part of the British in the Far East, and is shared to a great extent by the Americans. The British government's decision as announced by Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain, not to take any action on the outrages against foreigners in China is the reason. From Harbin in the north to Canton in the south there is an outburst of bitter disappointment, and even indignation, among the Chinese, whether northern radical nationalist or moderate nationalist. It is looked upon as a great Chinese victory over Britain.

Chamberlain's "inexpediency" view is taken as a confession of the weakness of Britain's position in the Far East, and is interpreted by the nationalists not as arising from love for or magnanimity toward China, but an admission of defeat. By the Russian element it is looked upon as a victory for Moscow over London. The impression is general that Chamberlain was influenced by Washington, and it is even predicted that America will replace Britain in leadership in the Far East.

The South China Post says, "It is a bombshell for British residents in the Far East."

The Peking Tien Tsin Times says: "The British decision will be received by foreigners all over China with amazement and indignation. It exposes the five powers to contempt and derision. Britons especially regard the decision as an act of betrayal of their government."

Chamberlain's optimism regarding the suppression of the Red element by the Moderates, and his roseate hopes for the future are not shared by any large portion of official or business circles. The Hongkong Telegram says: "We are doubtful about the consummation of such a hope, even though it is to be devoutly wished."

With more than 100,000 bandits between the Siberian border and Canton, and neither the Northerners nor the Nationalists are able to put them down, and with the report of the Hongkong chamber of commerce of an alarming increase in piracy, the fear is generally expressed that the era of restoration of law and order in China is still far distant.

Britain's decision is alleged to be giving a big impulse to the pan-Asiatic congress scheduled for Canton in June, when the freeing of Asia from the political dominance of the white race in general and Britain in particular, is expected to be one of the chief subjects on the program.

A merciless warfare is going on in Canton between the Reds and the anti-Reds. The police announce the wholesale execution of communists yesterday, only two boys being spared because of their age.

Fighting has been resumed along the Yangtze river. The Southerners have retaken Nanking from the Northerners. The Nationalists have organized a special propaganda corps under General Chien Tachun to go into the places recaptured from the radicals, clean up, and educate the people as to the disadvantages of communism.

SASH SLAYER BEGS TO SEE RUTH SNYDER

NEW YORK, May 11.—What worries Henry Judd Gray now is whether or not Ruth Snyder still loves him. The shadow of the death chair, in which he will probably sit before long, bothers him not at all.

Gray begged the jail authorities today to allow him to see his former mistress, who, with him, was convicted yesterday of first degree murder in the death of the woman's husband.

He had made the same request immediately after the conviction. Court officials have assured him they will do their best to arrange a meeting; but they are not sure Mrs. Snyder cares to see the man who she bitterly accuses of sending her to the chair.

"I had to tell the truth, but I didn't want to do her harm," said Gray today. "The least I can do is say good bye."

Gray is apparently hopeful that beneath all her scornful vituperation shown in the courtroom, there is a lingering tenderness for the little corset salesman, her companion in murder.

Gray probably does not know that in letters to her mother, written a few days ago, the blond widow was just as bitter toward her former lover as she was in court.

HAMMER USED TO KILL GIRL

WAUKEGAN, Ill., May 11.—Although the chain of circumstantial evidence is slowly tightening its hold about Otto Pueshell, the authorities are seeking a motive to account for his alleged slaying of pretty Wilma Miller, 25, a maid in the home of the wealthy Throne Donnelly's in Lake Forest. Pueshell was employed as a chauffeur by the Donnelly's.

The accused youth, who came to this country three years ago from Czechoslovakia, is in jail here, formally charged with the murder. The girl was found on the steps of the Donnelly home, her head beaten in with a hammer.

A handkerchief, identified as belonging to Pueshell was found stuffed in the girl's mouth. A brass hammer, believed to have been used in the gruesome murder was found nearby.

Despite continued questioning at the hands of police officers and representatives of the state's attorney, Pueshell continues to maintain his innocence.

The authorities so far have been unable to discover any motive for the crime. Although Pueshell after hours of questioning admitted he knew the girl, it is said they were not sweethearts.

It was at first believed the murder had been part of a plot to cover up a jewel robbery, but this was set at rest when Throne Donnelly hastily returned home from New York when he received news of the murder, and said that there was nothing missing.

was given a rousing round of applause by his fellow directors on the board. W. W. Scott referred to Paulsen as his "new conferee" and Paulsen responded by saying that he, too, would dedicate his service to the city council to the best interests and progress of the City of Richmond.

The matter of discussing and taking action on the question of urging an amendment to the state constitution which would provide that no new streets could be opened in any community in California within 350 feet of a main line railroad, introduced by George Booker, was put over until the first meeting in June.

George Adams, railroad traffic and tariff expert, gave a most interesting talk on the urgency of the establishment of a traffic department as a part of the chamber of commerce. He showed how shippers, both manufacturers and merchants, could be saved many dollars by knowing how to classify their shipments so as to enjoy the lowest possible rates. Adams declared that Richmond shared with San Francisco and Oakland a splendid, reasonable freight tariff, but that many of the shippers did not take advantage of this fact because they lacked the precise knowledge of the tariffs.

Adams also declared that Richmond was entitled to a custom house service and that shipments by water should be cleared from Richmond and not through San Francisco. He paid high tribute to Captain H. P. Lauritzen of the Richmond Navigation and Improvement company, who was doing so much to improve drayage service between Richmond and Oakland and Richmond and San Francisco.

In closing the meeting President Sanford urged the directors to attend the next meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa county, to be held at Pittsburg tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock, preceded by a dinner at the Hotel Los Medanos.

C. Garibotti will take over the stock on Friday bought of M. Katzman, according to notice of sale filed with the county recorder. M. Katzman has been operating a store at 1124 Macdonald avenue for several years.
